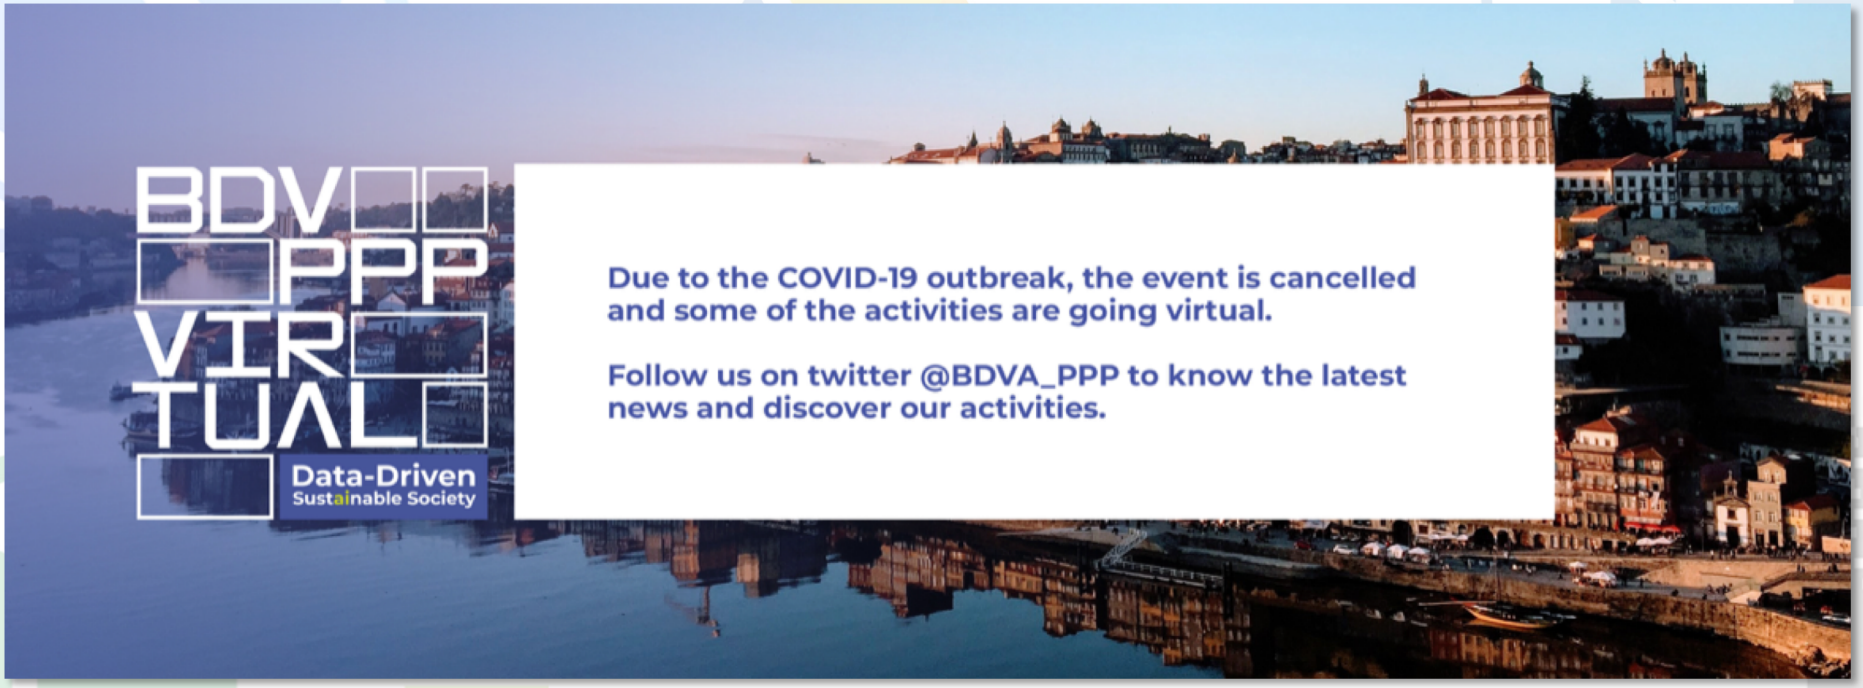
BDV PPP Summit 2020 went virtual



Why Big Data Pilot Demo Days?

- The new data-driven industrial revolution highlights the need for big data technologies to unlock the potential in various application domains.
- BDV PPP projects I-BiDaaS, BigDataStack and Track & Know and deliver innovative technologies to address the emerging needs of data operations and applications.
- To fully exploit the sustainability of the developed technologies, the projects onboarded pilots that exhibit their applicability in a wide variety of sectors.
- In their third and final year, the projects are ready to demonstrate the developed and implemented technologies to interested end-users from industry as well as technology providers, for further adoption.
